Golden Cross

The Golden Cross was built in 1583, on the site of the old Coventry Mint. Coventry mint operated from 1466 to 1470 and produced royals, half royals, silver groats and half groats. The building was first mentioned as an Inn in 1661, making it the oldest pub in the city centre. It underwent renovations in the 19th century, using timber from the original St Michaels Bell tower. The Beams are still intact and visible in the pub. The typical Tudor style also features a dragon beam, which is a diagonal beam that allowed the jettied upper floors to go round a corner.

Here at the Golden Cross, we have made it our mission to cater for people with dietary requirements. We started off with a couple of gluten free options and gradually made the whole menu accessible to coeliacs, offering them more choice than they are used to. As we make all of our dishes on site, if anyone has any specific requirements we will do our best to cater for them.
